

Join us in heading off a bigger disaster

For economically disadvantaged families, the coronavirus is threatening more than their health; it's threatening their financial stability and opportunities to thrive.

Many families we serve at INMED's Family & Youth Opportunity Center can't afford home computers, let alone WiFi. Without these resources, their children can't participate in remote learning while schools are closed--widening the achievement gap for this already at-risk population. Many parents who work low-wage hourly jobs are facing layoffs, while those who can work can't afford child care while schools are closed. This storm of events is brewing a disastrous outcome for families in need.

INMED USA is working closely with our community partners to help our families and community through this challenging time. Today, for example, our after-school staff is putting together learning packets for our children to work on until March 20. We're also coordinating with Loudoun Hunger Relief to get emergency food to those who need it.

There are many other needs to address as well, such as household staples, baby supplies and financial assistance.

If you would like to help, WE NEED DONATIONS OF:

- Grocery store gift cards
- Gas cards
- Diapers and wipes
- Baby food and formula
- Non-perishable healthy snacks
- Bottled water
- Milk
- Orange juice & 100% fruit juice
- Non-perishable canned food
- Non-perishable dry food

We also need tax-deductible monetary donations to provide financial support, such as:

- Utilities assistance
- Rental assistance
- Technology: Each student needs a computer and WiFi cards to access the Internet for remote learning.
